Why are you running for Detroit City Council?

I am running for Detroit City Council to serve the citizens of Detroit by bringing leadership experience with character and integrity. I am a native son of the city of Detroit which raised me, educated me, prepared me and sent me out to face the world and make something of myself. I have tried to do just that and feel I have an obligation and sense of responsibility to be in Detroit making a difference in the lives of others.

We have seen change at the national level, at the local level with our new mayor now that same change needs to take place with our City Council. I want to bring my years of experience as a minister, community leader and passion to serve people to the council table with professionalism and integrity.

What are your top 3 priorities for Detroit? *

Working to decrease crime

Developing and maintaining quality neighborhoods

Streamlining the process for businesses to start and function in Detroit to bring jobs for Detroit citizens

What have been your 2 greatest contributions to the public good? *

My two greatest contributions to the public good has been to tirelessly serve in the community and the second has been working through my profession as a minister to serve in the community.

What is the unique characteristic that makes you stand out among the 167 candidates running for City Council?

My unique characteristic that makes me stand out among the 167 candidates running for City Council is my ability to have a heart for people, serve them and fight for them. Many do not have what it takes to fight for what they know is rightly deserved, I must and will as a member of the City Council fight for every citizen of the city as I serve and protect their interests.
